The International School of Hospitality Appoints New Student and Academic Services Manager

Las Vegas, April 26, 2010 – The International School of Hospitality (TISOH) today announced that Rebecca Stebbins CMP has assumed the position of Student and Academic Services Manager effective immediately. In this capacity, Ms. Stebbins will be responsible for providing programs, services, and opportunities for students to have a well-rounded and successful educational experience at TISOH. She will also be the liaison between the school and local industry to maintain and continue to build internship and job placement programs, and assist the alumni association in their efforts to build their network and plan events.

Rebecca brings a wealth of hospitality knowledge and 13 years of catering, event and wedding planning experience to the TISOH administration. She has held catering and event planning positions at eight different corporate entities, including Catering and Conference Manager at the Venetian/Palazzo Resort Hotel Casino and Corporate Sales Manager at the Goodwin Hotel. She is a CMP (Certified Meeting Planner) and member of the Las Vegas Wedding Network.

About The International School of Hospitality (TISOH)

The International School of Hospitality (TISOH) was founded in 2005 by professors from the University of Nevada, Las Vegas. The mission of the school is to offer practical, short-term hospitality training programs developed for industry by industry. Along with class instruction, most courses include site visits and working internships. The school curriculum includes conference management and event planning, meeting & event catering, event design & production, hospitality leadership and supervision, wedding coordination and design, the art of concierge, art of food and beverage, hotel operations and hospitality human resources. Students may elect to study on site or enroll in TISOH's online courses.
